Class History

In the first century five brave pilgrims made their first appearance in Spring Valley and settled on the Mount Vernon campus. Dudley, Adrian, Florence, Pippy, and Bunny were the founders of our modern civilization of the Foxhall Road region.

A fashion show for the promotion of the sale of war bonds was an important event to the ancients. Adrian looked chic in a bathing suit and was positively stunning in flannel pajamas. Everyone's enthusiasm made the show a great success.

Late in the century a dance was given, this time at the Sulgrave Club. This, however, was not the only festivity. Our class, having received 100% in citizenship for the whole year, was awarded a half day vacation from school. We decided to spend this vacation at Glen Echo where we had a marvelous time.

The second period in the history of the class of '48 is known as the "Dark Ages". The class now assumed the more dignified title of "sophomores", and in addition the five original students had become "old girls". In this period the population was more than double what it was in the ancient times, and such illustrious persons as Elizabeth Johnston of the moving picture industry, Maggie Johnson of the A.A.,

and that well remembered genius, Maja Weisl, made their appearance on the campus.

The main social occurrence was a formal dance at the Wesley Heights Club and a trip to Skytop, where most of the girls were introduced to the exciting sports of "Winter Wonderland". We held a picnic in Rock Creek Park followed by Class Night, when the plays and awards were given. At Baccalaureate and graduation we were no longer the last to enter the church, but the day we should graduate still looked far off.

The beginning of the Renaissance, or our Junior year, was marked with great confusion, as the new buildings were not yet finished. Our class was again double what it had been the previous year. The first dance, given at the Wesley Heights Club, was followed by a welcome Christmas vacation, which was followed by a not-so-welcome exam week. Everywhere the spirit of the Reformation was visible. Next, clubs in art, dramatics, typing, and Glee Club, were organized for the pursuit of higher learning. In addition to a group of one-act plays presented by the Dramatic Club, "H.M.S. Pinafore" was presented by the Glee Club.

The Student-Faculty basketball game was an important sports event of the age. Senorita must have had forebodings, for she appeared in a black veil. In spite of the fact that Miss Curry, Miss Bemis, Mr. Loughran, and Col. Carr, offered stiff opposition, and Miss Hastings was the cheerleader, the students won the game.

At the close of the year a picnic was given, the highlights of which were a father-and-daughter softball game and the presentation of athletic awards. The Senior Prom was the first dance given in our new school. A farewell banquet for the Seniors was held at Elizabeth's house, from where everyone went to a private showing of "Dear Ruth". Finally graduation came, and we said good-bye to many of our friends.

Seniors! The Modern Age began in the fall of 1947. By this time there was evidence of grass, flowers, and paint on the Mount Vernon campus. Since the gallery was now finished, we held chapel services there and proudly filed in at the head of the school.

The first important date was Founder's Day, which was celebrated with services in the old Mount Vernon Chapel. Shortly afterwards, our international friendships were strengthened when we entertained an important guest from England. She was the world famous hockey instructor, Miss Applebee.

Before Christmas a large book fair was held in the library. Beautiful volumes were exhibited and the fair was a huge success. The Glee Club and the Dramatic Club united to present "The Magi's Gift". Next a wonderful formal dance was held in the Refectory, followed closely by Christmas vacation.

After returning to school we earnestly pursued our studies, for exam week was not far off. It was truly an industrial revolution, but the reward of this hard labor was a trip to Sky Top. However not all the snow was at Sky Top, for the peak of Mount Vernon glistened white most of the winter, keeping the little snow plow very busy.

Spring was a welcome and festive season. We returned from a glorious Spring vacation to be confronted with the rigors of College Boards which really weren't as bad as we thought they would be. After this event, time seemed to move with gathering rapidity. Several informal dances were held, along with the senior's Bazaar and Fashion Show. A Grand Parents' Day was followed by the athletic picnic, the Third Form's banquet for us, our Senior Prom and a wonderful Class Night. When graduation, with all its flurry of excitement and happiness finally arrived, it was hard to part with our good friends and the life we had loved at Mount Vernon. But this was an age of realism and so we all said good-bye and looked to the future with brave hearts and "Great Expectations".

Class Prophecy

Dear Diary,

What a day! Here I am feeling stuffed but happy, after a wonderful twentieth-year class reunion. It was really grand to see everyone again, but it was, in many cases, surprising.

I was met at the door by Jackie, who is the new campaign manager for Wallace's fifth try for the presidency. Jackie is still hopeful. Also in the world of politics is Bunny, who has just entered the legislature at the University of Virginia.

Helen, chief sampler for the Whitman Candy Company, was passing around her company's products all afternoon. She and Frannie had much to say to each other, for Fran has just published her latest best-seller, "How to Make Pie-Dough Thin". It's the tale of an apple-pan-dowdy and her tart lover.

In talking to Judy, I found she's now president of a fast-spreading company, "Long's Salon for the Undeveloped." Bucky, her star pupil, made such great progress after parting with her tape-worm, that she has had to resort to the Dubarry Success Course.

Mademoiselles Justine and Marie Therese are creating a rage in Paree with their new "crew-cut coiffures". They import their "light-en-ing" effects from the Johnson-Willard Corporation of Oklahoma. Margie Johnson has just returned from Europe, where she has been staging magnificent art exhibits.

In the business world, Magnolia Holbrook has just opened a saloon in New Orleans with drinks on the house for Sullie's boys. Her feature attraction is Bubbles Block, who performs said dance. Pat, the country's leading chemist, is writing a book on Bubbles in which the main theme is not how to split the atom,—but the bubble!

Anne Holman is the chief taste-tester of the Newman-Wright Skag Company, and says she just loves her job! Miggie's Blind Date Agency was so successful that Claudia and Ann Peters are now happily married. So what if they couldn't speak Eskimonian? Joan Towson still chooses to remain independent, and has just subscribed to her twentieth consecutive season at the Annapolis tea dances. She hopes that in spite of her white hair she will be invited to the first Hop.

Florence owns a gaily-lit stand at Rehoboth Beach, where she sells her new improved guaranteed-not-to-run mascara. Genie has recently been chosen America's Beach Girl of 1968 and has achieved wide fame. Julie, her neighbor, is operating a rest home for the weary. Her chief clients are survivors of Gail's course, "Conga and Bunny-Hop in a Strapless", which, from experience, Gail guarantees will stay up. She admits that part of her secret to success is due to Bobbie's new product, "Stay-up-Stickum" for the strapless gowns of those who have not yet been to Long's Salon. Dudley, who didn't go to Long's Salon, is one of Bobbie's chief customers.

In the world of entertainment, Pippy has taken a brief vacation from Opera to star in the Broadway hit, "U. Va.'s Ragtime Gal", in which her singing and dancing have captivated thousands. Out Hollywood way Liz Johnston is producing and directing her latest movie, "Rock Creek Rendezvous". She may star in it just for old time's sake.

Mo is leading a brilliant career in fashion-designing in New York. Also, Nancy and Betsy have finally retired from modeling in Manhattan, much to the disappointment of everyone. They have an apartment with Ann Morris, who is dazzling the Stork Club with her sultry singing.

Betty Battle and Jean Hanna are the main figures in the sports world. Betty, having finally decided between Duke and Carolina, made the football team in spite of lumbago. Jean is touring England in order to teach America's latest techniques in hockey. She is fast becoming the Miss Applebee of the U. S. Other news from abroad is the rumored visit of Sibyl and her husband with their two daughters, who will enter Mount Vernon next year.

Amy and Ginny have become quite prosperous on their western ranches. Amy is raising cattle, while Ginny is raising "cattle-acs".

Dear Diary, you are not to infer that the class of '48 produced no scientists, for Adrian and her able assistant, Beth, having overcome earlier sentiments, are carrying on vital experiments on elephants at the Washington Zoo.

This certainly has been one of the most exciting days of my life, and one that I will long remember. Who would have dreamed twenty years ago that the class of '48 would produce so many celebrities!

Last Will and Testament

I, Helen Adams, leave to Helen Banks Adams sole use of my name. Keep it shining.

I, Betty Battle, will my school handbook to anyone who wants it.

I, Marilyn Block, leave Jerry to Marlene Jacobson who I'm sure will appreciate him.

I, Amy Bond, I will, I will, I will! !

I, Mary Buckingham leave my tapeworm to anybody wanting to reduce.

I, Betsy Chamberlaine, will my ability to play tennis to Marion Pelly.

I, Nancy Chamberlaine, leave but not for long . . . I'm coming back to Junior college.

I, Barbara Davis, will to the next 4th form president the gavel I didn't have. If her meetings are like ours, she'll need it.

I, Julie Dossett, leave to Margaret Carpenter, "I Love Mary Molly Margaret", and the remembrance of all our other good times at the Fairfax Hotel.

I, Adrian Dunn, will my seat in Physiology to Joy Higgins with the hope that she'll enjoy dissecting cats as much as I did.

I, Beth Frey, will my red flannel underwear to Jane Lank.

I, Gail Hall, leave my gay weekends to Ann King, who I hope will have just as much fun on them as I had.

I, Dudley Hand, just leave. It's about time!

I, Jean Hanna, leave my hockey stick to Molly Joy.

I, Joannie Holbrook, will the Chapel piano to Joy Higgins, daring her to play "Near You", instead of "Holy, Holy, Holy" just once.

I, Anne Holman, will to the White Hockey team an octopus to take over my position as goalie.

I, Frances Jewell, will my "natural" curly hair to Emily Price.

I, Jere Johnson, will to the Officers of the third form my bottle of Marchand's Peroxide.

I, Margaret Johnson, leave Miss Bemis . . . in peace and quiet.

I, Marjorie Johnson, leave a large stack of posters to the Third Form.

I, Elizabeth Johnston, leave to my successor in Lend-A-Hand all the fun that I have had this year.

I, Genie Lang, will my prehistoric legs to Tommy Akers.

I, Pat Layne, will my two little bangs to Anne King in hopes she can keep them curly.

I, Judy Long, leave all my love to Jenny, and Jenny to Mount Vernon for another year.

I, Bunny Miller, will to whoever may be Student Body President next year all the pleasure that I have had working with the students at Mount Vernon Seminary.

I, Ann Morris, will to Betty Baxter those gay weekends.

I, Mo Moss, will all of my clothes to poor Judy Balaban who has such a hard time skimping by on the few she owns.

I, Sibyl Mussenden, leave my three C's to Conchita Plaza, who, I'm sure, will make good use of them.

I, Peggy Newman, leave to Miss Gutheim a quiet and peaceful next year's senior hall, so that she may reign in blissful silence.

I, Ann Peters, leave my steady fire of conversation to three of those quiet girls, Conchita Plaza, Emily Price, and Susan Gullia.

I, Jackie Sleeper, will to Marlene Jacobson my escapades at Skytop, in hopes that she will be more successful with Joe and have half as much fun as I did.

I, Judy Taylor, leave my sincere gratitude to Amy.

I, Joan Towson, will my adventures off Mount Vernon campus to Audrey Appel.

I, Florence Walker, leave the gay morning life of the Westmoreland Hills bus stop to Betsy Walker, Carvel Breeding, and any other unfortunate person.

I, Diana Walter, will my braces to reinforce the new buildings.

I, Claudia Wannamaker, leave to Betty Guider my room . . . no. 28.

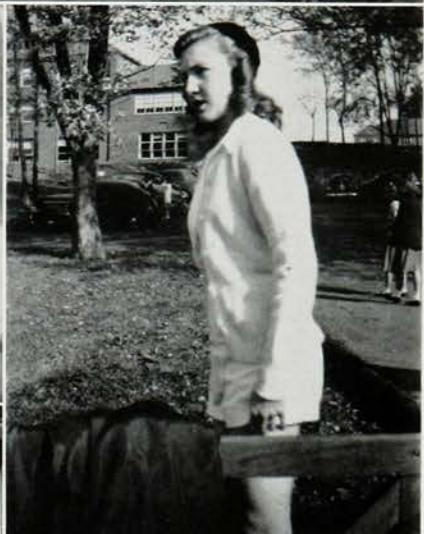

I, Mesa Washburne, leave my good luck (?) cap to the future goalies of the Yellow team.

I, Virginia Wilson, will my apartment at the Fairfax to the next senior class with the hope that they will get as much use out of it as the last one did.

I, Mary Wright, will my innocent brown eyes to the next senior who needs them to keep her out of trouble.

Can You Imagine?

Treasurer .....	Jackie Lillard

As a class, we have been quite representative this year. Many of us made varsity teams, and Jane and Helen were accepted for membership in Optima. Aside from school activities we have had some wonderful parties and grand times together.

This year has been one which we will long remember.

It seems hard to believe that next year we will be seniors at Mount Vernon. We are looking forward to that time with a great feeling of pride and expectancy.

We of the second form have had a wonderful year. When the original six of us returned in the fall, we were proud of our new titles and responsibilities as "old girls". Our many new members were welcome additions, and we found it was fun having such a big class. Our class meetings are in an uproar most of the time, but through the din we somehow get things settled.

We have a grand group of girls and, after all, just being Form II in Mount Vernon is good enough for us.

Secretary-Treasurer.....Mary Alice Lee

This has been our first year at M. V. S., and now that we have long ago recovered from that fear of being "new girls," we feel very much a part of our school.

Despite the fact that there are only nine members in our class, two of them made the Varsity Hockey team. Ellie Fulton, class president, made the girls' all-Washington Hockey team. We have had a wonderful year and by working and playing together have made it a huge success.

Student Council

The Student Council has always been one of our most important and respected organizations. By providing the school with real leadership, it furnishes the guiding hand that helps us through many difficulties.

The Council, this year headed by Student Body President Bunny Miller, is made up of the presidents and vice-presidents of the forms, the president of Optima, and the heads of Lend-A-Hand, Social League and the Athletic Association. Aided by the advisers, Mrs. Lloyd, Miss Hastings, Mrs. Lindsay, and Miss Carter, it strives to uphold the high standards of citizenship at M. V. S.

Meetings are held frequently and all student problems and activities are discussed. At one of their meetings the Council was visited by Miss Bertie Buckus, an authority on student governments. The members planned a day in the spring during which our parents might come and observe the daily life of the school.

The Council is proud of the fact that this year, through the Chapel Committee, Library Committee, Study Hall proctors, and other fields where the Student Council is in charge, more students are taking part in the running of our school than ever before.

Optima

The Optima Club is Mount Vernon's honor society. A student is eligible for membership when she has attained a place on three out of four Honor Rolls and as many Citizenship Honor Rolls. To be asked to become a member is considered a great honor, and membership in the club is the aim of every student.

In addition to frequent meetings, four times a year the club meets for dinner together at school and then initiates new members. This year at Christmas the members adopted a family through Friendship House and bought presents and food for it. In the spring a tea was held at which each member and her guests brought a book. These books were sent to a school in England. Everyone especially enjoyed the Optima party which highlighted the year's events.

The purpose of Optima has always been to uphold the highest academic standards as well as the best citizenship at Mount Vernon.

Seated: Joannie Holbrook; Standing: Nancy Chamberlaine, Alice Lee Carter, Carvel Breeding.
Absent: Jenny Weinman.

The Social League

The Social League, one of the most popular student organizations, arranges all our dances and other social activities. Joannie Holbrook, its president this year, was ably assisted by Nancy Chamberlaine, Jenny Weinman, Carvel Breeding, and Alice Lee Carter. Obtaining food, decorations, music, and men were a few of the problems they had to tackle. With the assistance of Mrs. Lindsay and Miss Carter, they came through with flying colors.

Our first formal was the Christmas dance on December 13th in the Refectory. The couples danced amid Xmas trees, tinsel, soft lights, and the music of Jack Lockwood's orchestra. When we returned from spring vacation we had several informals. We all looked forward to the big graduation prom in May, which was a perfect ending to our wonderful season.

Seated: Mary Wright, Miss Carter, Adviser; Standing: Elizabeth Johnston, President; Alice Woodward, Lula Belle Scott, Georgia Dahl.

Lend-A-Hand

Lend-a-Hand is the philanthropic society of Mount Vernon Seminary to which we all belong. Each student pledges an annual contribution which forms the treasury of the organization. Our group has helped many worthy causes, such as the Red Cross, the Community Chest, and other charities, and hopes to continue along the same paths in the future.

We started this year with a candy sale which was a huge success. With the proceeds from this sale, we bought a Christmas stocking, volleyball, a football for Hillcrest Home, and presents for other underprivileged children. Perhaps our most worthy project, and the one we are most proud of, is our adopted French boy.

We have been privileged to have had two speakers this year, the head of the Seeing Eye with his dog, and Mr. Seymour Houghton, who runs a refugee home for children in France. We profited greatly from these assemblies and contributed to both worthy projects.

Seated: Mesa Washburne, Margaret Johnson, Frances Jewell, Gail Hall. Standing: Diana Walter, Marjorie Johnson.

Cupola

Frances Jewell .....Editor
Gail Hall .....Literary Editor
Marjorie Johnson .....Art Editor

The "Cupola" was compiled by the combined efforts of a number of girls, but it was the Editor's conscience that sent it to press.

Mesa did a grand job on pictures, spending many study halls rounding up unwilling preps, and with the help of a few camera sharks she filled up the snap pages with a fine array of pictures.

Gail managed to gather together her literary material and spent many bleak week-ends with the staff, writing, revising, and re-writing the copy.

Under Pippy's capable guidance the

Margaret Johnson.....Business Manager
Diana Walter .....Advertising Manager

advertising campaign was a great success, and thanks to it we were able to publish the "Cupola".

Miggy wore herself out sending bills, thank-you-letters, and pleading with the girls to ple-e-e-ease buy a year book.

Marjie did splendid work on the literary as well as the art end and contributed two of our most important articles.

Finally, we wish to thank those few, but willing, "ad hounds" and all the girls who gave so freely of their time and talent that we might publish this year book.

Activities

Every girl at Mount Vernon has an opportunity to become a part of an activity suited to her interests. She may publish a yearbook, act in a play, sing, draw, garden, and even learn to type.

The Publications Activity published the first edition of our new literary quarterly "Campus Carousel", this spring. In this newest creative effort, Publications hope to inspire original writing of both prose and poetry. The members also contribute to the organization and success of "The Cupola". In order that each girl share in the work she likes best, the activity is organized into different committees that work on business and advertising, typing, creative writing, and photography.

The Gardening Club is one of the most useful and important of the activities. The work was a great deal of fun, and everyone enjoyed planting bulbs and seeds around the campus. The result of their labors was a great pleasure to all, as a campus decorated with colorful flowers blossomed in the spring.

The Prep Players launched a successful year by selecting as their first presentation, "The Magi's Gift," an operetta in two acts. The singers, members of the Glee Club, and the dancers added to the pic-turesqueness of the play. They also presented "Little Women", in the spring.

Every Thursday afternoon the usual quiet that prevails at Mount Vernon is broken by the harmonious voices emanating from the assembly room. The Glee Club is holding its weekly session. The group sang in the old Mount Vernon Chapel for the Founder's Day service. They also took part in the Christmas play, gave a spring recital and participated in other choral activities.

The membership of the Art Club has increased greatly since the start of the club a year ago. These aspiring artists learn the finer points of painting, sketching, drawing, modeling with clay, working with charcoal and pastels, and thus gain more confidence in their artistic ability. They visit exhibitions and art galleries, and also are very helpful in making posters for advertising school activities.

Many students felt that they would like to learn to type, and so our Typing Activity was organized. Despite the fact that the typists met only once a week, they progressed well. They soon learned the keys, the placements of letters, margins, and other elementary techniques. They reported that with a little more practice, they would be almost "professional".

Athletics

Every Mount Vernon girl belongs to either the White or Yellow teams which compete against each other during the year. Representatives are elected from each class to serve on the Athletic board, which directs the sports activities of the school.

Our hockey season was very successful, being high-lighted by a visit from the famed English hockey instructor, Miss Applebee. The Prep School field day was held at our school and many of our players were elected to the all-Washington hockey team, chosen on that day. Many girls went to National Cathedral School each Saturday morning during the season to practice with other schools. Several were later chosen for the Washington Junior Hockey Club team.

Despite the fact that basketball practice was governed strictly by the weather man, we managed to have a very good season. Our softball and tennis teams provided much enjoyment to spectators and players alike.

The highlight of the year was the "Father-Daughter Day" picnic and baseball game. On this occasion, awards were given to girls of outstanding athletic ability.

"Have you been to the Book Store lately?"

The Book Store keeps its eyes open for new, amusing, or useful things.

But sometimes the cleverest items are the very ones that disappear the fastest. So it pays to drop in regularly.

And of course, there's always a supply of the things you must have, from notebook fillers to fountain pens.
